Lights Here Plainly Visible From Shore Line

Bodien Attends Meeting To Study Enforcement Measures

With the lights of Daly City plainly visible at night from the shore line, this community will be one of the key cities along the California coast from the Santa Maria river to the Oregon border affected by recent orders of the Twelfth Naval District to dim all light visible from the ocean.

Motivated by Admiral J. W. Greenslade's request, the order was issued by James C. Sheppard, regional director of the Office of Civilian Defense. The war measure was made necessary by the submarine menace created by the shoreline silhouetting of American vessels.

Selected to represent San Mateo county with Earl P. Wilsey, county civilian defense chief, Arthur J. Bodien, Daly City's Civilian Defense chairman, attended a regional meeting in San Francisco. The meeting was called to discuss enforcement measures of the new rule.

Bodien made a report to the city council at their regular meeting on the regional session of civilian defense, and he outlined plans to enforce the dim-out in Daly City. Bodien, with a number of the civilian defense and city officials, made a survey of Daly City's lighting after the meeting, Monday night, driving (Continued on Page 2)

Men With Dependents May Be Inducted

Many selective service registrants who are deferred from military service solely because they have dependents will eventually be inducted unless they become engaged in activities essential to the war effort, according to Dr. J. C. McGovern, chairman of Daly City Draft Board No. 103.

America is rapidly reaching the stage where everyone must be working or fighting to win the war, Dr. McGovern pointed out, and every able bodied man will be needed for these two causes as a result of war requirements and the demand for manpower by essential industries.

"Our board is now reconsidering all registrants with dependency deferments for two purposes," the local chairman said.

Spring Clean-Up Week Now Under Way

When rubbish pickups in the Jefferson park and Colma section have been completed tomorrow by the city truck, Daly City will have completed its sixth successful annual Spring Clean-up Week.

Fred A. Collins, city health officer, and Arthur J. Bodien, water superintendent, were directors of the campaign. All residents of the city were asked to join in the drive to keep the city clean.

Rubbish and trash from the Crocker tract and the Mission and Hillcrest tract was picked up on Monday and yesterday. Residents were asked to pick up ordinary rubbish in their back yards and basements, and place it in containers in front of their houses on the curbs. The city trucks picked up the rubbish at specific times.

School Trustee Election Tomorrow

Voters will go to the polls, tomorrow, to elect two trustees for the Jefferson Union high school district and one trustee for the Jefferson Elementary school district.

No opposition was reported in either election, making tomorrow's election just a formality. However, all voters are urged to turn out. Mrs. Pearl M. Jones and E. A. Weisenburger will be elected. (Continued on Page 2)

Infantry Stresses Need For Recruits

Military protection of life and property was forseen, this week, in Daly City as the Seventeenth California Infantry, home guard in the Bay area, announced that recruiting was open for Company B, a division which will function in Daly City.

Airing plans before the city council at their meeting, Monday night, Captain M. S. Auerback, a commanding officer of the Seventeenth California Infantry, told the council that there was a vital need in Daly City for a company of the military unit to safeguard human lives in case of an invasion where the function of the Civilian Defense Council was limited. Captain Auerback was especially anxious to enlist men who will not be serving in the regular army, since duties only take up a few hours a week of (Continued on Page 2)

Volunteer Forces Hold Another Big Demonstration

Mock Air Raid Last Night Covered Entire City

Under the direction of Arthur H. Quirnbach, chief air raid warden, who "cooked up" eleven disaster incidents, Daly City's Civilian Defense Council and all its volunteer forces held a mass demonstration, last night, in a mock air raid that covered the entire city.

Control center for civilian defense was buzzing with activity at 8:30 p. m. last night when services of the civilian defense and the city were dispatched to places where imaginary incendiary bombs, high explosive bombs, and other "aerial attacks" fell on the city. Quirnbach worked his crew of air raid wardens in calling in the imaginary disasters to the control center, and all of them were phoned in within the space of a few minutes.

Telephone operators in the control center took the reports, turned them over to the control table, where they were passed down the line to each civilian defense official, and he dispatched the services needed from his department.

Disasters in the city as a result of the mock air raid were supposedly a major fire in the Colma district, five bombings on (Continued on Page 2)

It Was A Big Time In The Old Home Town

"Everyone had a BIG time at the Big Victory Costume Dance last Saturday," declared Andrew P. Chesney, fire chief, as he reviewed the eighth annual benefit dance at Colombo hall, sponsored by the Daly City Fire department.

Chief Chesney stated that the affair was well attended, and it was undoubtedly a financial success, although proceeds have not yet been determined. Proceeds of (Continued on Page 2)

Town Of Colma To Purchase Bonds

City government in the town of Colma began a new term, Monday, with the first council meeting, following the city election, being called to order by the new mayor and council chairman, Paul Delucchi.

Heading city business at the meeting was a motion passed to purchase $3000 in government war bonds for Colma. This motion followed a treasury report made by Henry Kempf, town treasurer.

Initial plans for the purchase of fire protection equipment were aired at Monday's session, and Mayor Delucchi appointed Councilman Fren Lane and City Clerk E. A. Weisenburger to a committee to proceed with negotiations. The outstanding suggestion for buying fire protection equipment was a portable reel which would carry 500 feet of fire hose.

Civilian defense training for air raid wardens in Colma was also discussed at the meeting, with (Continued on Page 7)

Nice People Save Tin

To the list of things nice people don't do—like beating their mothers-in-law or eating out of the kitchen sink—has been added a new taboo since America's conservation program was introduced. Nice people just don't throw tin cans away which could be used in the war effort.

Instead, they wash the cans out, cut both ends open, bend the jagged ends inside the can, flatten the can by stepping on it, and save it with others for the weekly collection of the Daly City Tin Salvage committee.

When a number of cans have been saved, ask any student from the local grammar schools to take it to school where a collection of all the tin cans of the city is made every Friday.

High School To Present "Hawaiian Paradise"

Palm trees, romantic Hawaiian melodies, and gorgeous costumes will all combine to make Jefferson Union high school's presentation of "Hawaiian Paradise," May 28 and 29, an outstanding success. A swimming pageant, featuring both water and stage events, the show will see more than a hundred students participating.

Tickets for the show will go on sale, Monday. They may be purchased from any student or at the high school.

Swimming formations, stunt diving and swimming are under the direction of Miss Ella Redkey and Miss Juanita Young. The pageant part of the show is being directed by Student Body President Roy DeVincenzi, supervised by the teachers. Music will be furnished by Howard Miguel and his "Indians of Rhythm." Settings are being prepared by Durant Moseley and his stage crew, while Leonel Gray is in charge of the ticket sale. Mrs. Effie Andersen is assisting with art work for the models' gowns.

Oh Say, Have You Bought Any Today?

Figures don't lie, and from the looks of local defense bond and stamp figures compiled by the Daly City Post Office and the Daly City and Colma branches, Bank of America, for the month of April, Uncle Sam is getting lots of support from both young and old in this community.

Not only are men from Daly City serving in the fighting forces; not only does Bay Area shipyard personnel include the names of many Daly City workers; not only are local men and women serving on the civilian defense front, but, most important, they are behind Uncle Sam with that "almighty dollar."

Any afternoon after school hours, a long line of school children can be found at the defense window of the local post office—a line so long that grownups gladly purchase their bonds and (Continued on Page 5)

No Further Evidence Found In Murder Case

No further evidence was revealed in the Charles Darnell murder case, Tuesday, when an inquest was held at the W. C. Lasswell mortuary, with Deputy District Attorney Bures Karmel and attorneys of George Pavlos, accused murderer of Darnell, hearing testimonies. Joseph J. Bullock is the defense attorney.

The brief inquest found Mrs. Clara Parriot, formerly known as the wife of the victim, testifying. Officers Henry Sundermann and (Continued on Page 5)

Council Inspects New Firehouses, Studies Protection

A. L. "Barney" Hilton Appointed Police Consultant At Session

Inspection of new firehouses, military protection in Daly City, and announcement of official city committees to serve for the ensuing term, headed the business at the regular meeting of the city council, Monday evening.

Personnel increase of the Daly City Police department also transpired at the meeting with the appointment of Lieutenant A. L. "Barney" Hilton as police consultant for the department at a salary of $95 a month. Lieutenant Hilton, formerly police chief and a lieutenant on the force, will act in advisory capacity in present police matters. He served for 25 years on the local police department. Illness forced him to retire from active duty several months ago.

Notice of completion was filed for the new firehouses after the council passed a motion to authorize Mayor A. J. Gaggero and City Clerk Burt C. Ross to execute signing the notice. The motion was passed after the council heard results of an inspection made by Arthur J. Bodien, new building inspector. Bodien advised the council that the fire- (Continued on Page 5)

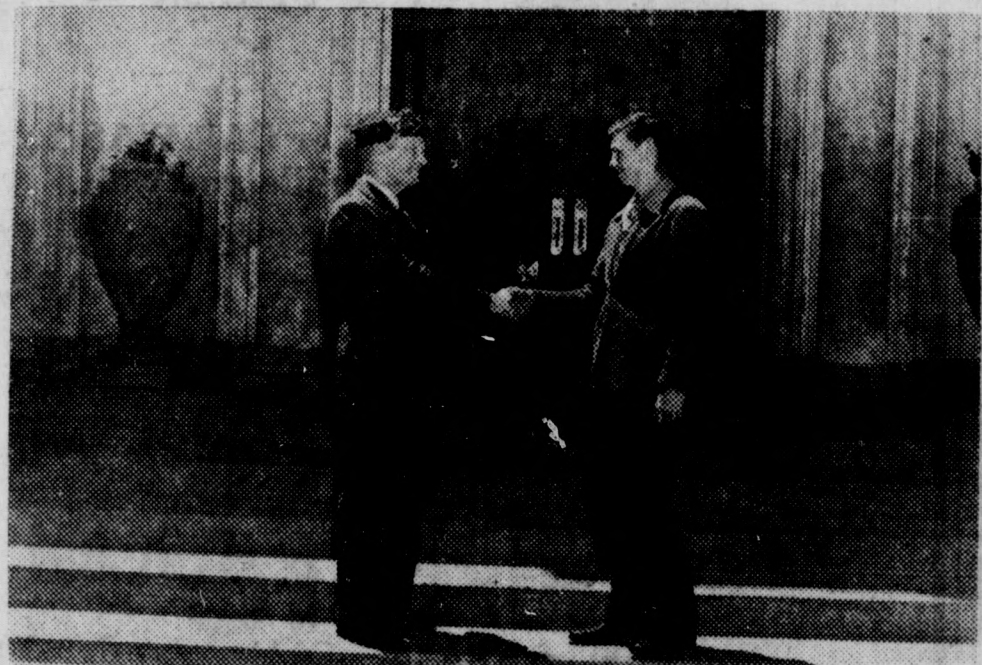

11,960 Register For Ration Books

Just how many people do live in Daly City? That has been a much discussed question ever since the official census figures reported by the government two years ago added up to only 9,612. Everyone seemed to feel that there were more people than that in this community and evidently they were right. The sugar registration, last week, shows that 11,960 Daly City people registered for books, according to reports from the Jefferson Elementary School district.

In addition, there are a number of Daly City residents who have not yet signed up in the sugar rationing program due to working hours which precluded getting to the schools.

For four days last week, local grammar schools were closed to pupils but wide open to all the sugar users of the community. War Ration Book One was issued to every sugar user whose family did not possess an amount of (Continued on Page 5)

Arthur Quirnbach, Jefferson Union high school faculty member and commander of Daly City Post No. 410, congratulates John Mosman, this year's Boys' State representative. Mosman was chosen to attend the American Legion sponsored event because of his outstanding record for character, leadership, citizenship and scholarship at Jefferson. Sent jointly by Daly City Post No. 410 and Brisbane Post No. 473, American Legion, Mosman will spend June 20 to 27 in Davis participating in Boys' State. Purpose of the annual statewide event is "to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation, by the practical instruction of youth in the privileges, duties, rights and responsibilities of American Citizenship."

Mosman, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Mosman, 232 Hillcrest drive, is a junior at Jefferson.

Builds Planes For Uncle Sam's Navy

Frank Devlin, 469 Niantic street, leads all individual builders in the San Francisco model plane building competition for boys, inaugurated by the Navy two months ago. Frank, a Daly City boy, has hit another high record in that every plane he has completed to date has been accepted by the Navy. Since all planes must be built exactly to specifications, this is an unusual feat. For full details read story on Page 5.

"Broken gas and water mains" necessitated calling out three utility machines. Eight first aid squads rushed to scenes of "disaster" to treat possible casualties. Auxiliary policemen were called out to draw police lines. All services functioned in the drill.

Purpose of the mass demonstration is a practice test for all members of the organization, and the council informed all volunteers that there would be more drills of this kind.

the recruit's time. However, men who have already signed up for selective service may also benefit by the state military training while awaiting induction into the regular army.

Drills will be held one evening a week, and the only time they will be called into actual combat duty will be in case of invasion or some other disaster where martial law is ordered.

Upon obtaining of their full quota of men, the local company will be drilled by six officers of the California State Guard. Daly City Company B needs 217 men to fill its quota of enlistments.

All men between the ages of 18 and 64, American citizens of sound mind and body are eligible to enlist. All local men who are interested in joining the military unit are asked to contact Lieutenant Jack Hill, 398 North Parkview avenue. He can be reached by telephone at Randolph 4413.

Lieutenant Hill has shown considerable progress in the Seventeenth California Infantry. He was promoted last week to a second lieutenant, having formerly been ranked as first sergeant.

DIM-OUT

along Skyline boulevard where many lights were found visible.

Immediate plans are under way this week in turning out all lights visible from the ocean. Lights which are affected by the rule are street lights, commercial and advertising lighting, residential and industrial windows, and street and highway traffic which can be seen from the sea.

Bodien told the council that street lights must be painted or shielded on the seaward side, and all display lighting must be extinguished if the shielding is not practical. Shades in residences facing the sea must be kept drawn at night under the new order. Night traffic in the visibility zone must either be rerouted or required to travel at reduced speeds with parking lights only.

Responsible for local enforcement of dim-out rules are air raid wardens and auxiliary police officers. Plans are now being made for this enforcement.

The order will effect 48 cities and towns and nine counties in the Twelfth Naval District. One effect of the rule in San Francisco will be the closing of Playland, a string of beach concessions.

Ginger Rogers Star Of "Roxie Hart"

Ginger Rogers has given another superb performance. In the title role of 20th Century-Fox's "Roxie Hart," she is the most demure load of dynamite that ever blasted a screen. She dances! She's coy—cute and hilarious! And so is the picture which opens tonight at the Daly City theatre.

In a role that is distinctly different from her recent successes in "Kitty Foyle" and "Tom, Dick and Harry," Ginger gives an outstanding portrayal of the little girl who could do no wrong no matter how hard she tried.

"Roxie Hart" has been made for laughs. Burlesquing Chicago in the roaring days when a pretty woman could get a "not guilty" verdict from any jury, it tells the whole hilarious history of "Roxie Hart." When a man confesses to a murder, a wide-awake reporter kills the story, and suggests that Roxie let herself be tried for the crime. Learning of the publicity she will gain from the trial and gaining the promise of a vaudeville contract, she agrees to stand trial—for her career's sake.

The top-flight criminal lawyer is hired, the newspapers play it up as a show, special reporters are assigned, newsreel men and radio cover the event. "Roxie Hart" becomes a nation-wide figure.

Adolphe Menjou is outstanding as the lawyer who defended Roxie. George Montgomery gives his best performance to date as the cub reporter who believes that Roxie is innocent—and does she hate that!

Besides dancing and refreshments there were prizes galore at the dance. Door prizes were won by Anna Cecili, first prize, and H. W. Avery, second prize.

Costumes for the affair were old clothes, but the costumes which caught the eye of the judges were actually not so old. However, there was no doubt about it, as they were the outstanding costumes on the floor—You guessed it!—Costume prizes were won by five men in the uniforms of Uncle Sam's army. All five tied for the cash prize, and there was rollicking applause for the judges' selection.

Judges who selected the army men for first place were Mayor A. J. Gaggero, Councilman Eugene Lynch, and Captain Walter Davis, floor manager of the dance.

Chief Chesney, this week, thanked all local residents who cooperated in planning for the dance, all committees who worked on the affair, and the Daly City Record for publicity of the benefit dance.

NEW OFFICERS

Bob Nava has been chosen by the members of the executive board to serve as sergeant-at-arms. His job will be for the remainder of the term.

PENNY SWING

A smart and unique idea was developed by the executive board at one of their meetings, recently. It was decided by the board to hold a weekly "Penny Swing." These dances will be held during both lunch periods, and the price of dancing will be a penny.

Proceeds from this will be used to purchase more records for the school phonograph.

First one in the school's history will be held today.

JUNIOR JIVE

Talk about your successes!—one of the most outstanding ones of the school semester proved to be the Junior Jive. The dance was held, Friday evening, and approximately four hundred students attended.

High seniors were admitted free of charge as a last treat by the juniors before graduation.

Decorations at the dance were outstanding. A May pole was erected in the center of the dance floor with different colored streamers running out to the walls. Chinese lanterns were hung everywhere.

Orchids should go to the Junior class, Frank Feno and his committee, and the members of the school's entertainment committee.

ASSEMBLY

Students of Jefferson were treated to one of the best pay assemblies of the semester, Tuesday, in the auditorium, according to Roy DeVincenzi, student body president.

Speaker of the day was Delbert Harter, world traveler, and Far Eastern expert.

Admission was free with student body card and a nominal charge was made for those without cards.

Members of the student body are anxiously looking forward to tomorrow's assembly. Featured on the program will be Howard Miguel and his Indians of Rhythm.

Frank Devlin Builds Model Planes For Navy

Sets Record For Speed And Accuracy In Construction

Bombers, fighter planes, and pursuit ships are being rushed off the assembly lines of Douglas, Lockheed, and the many other aircraft factories which are supplying Uncle Sam with planes, but this isn't the only type of planes America is getting.

In a typical boy's room in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Devlin, 469 Niantic street, there is another of Uncle Sam's leading assembly lines for planes. In this room, model planes, used for maps and charts by the Navy, are being turned out at a fast clip by Frank Devlin, 13-year-old son of the Devlins.

Apparently believing that "actions speak louder than words," Frank doesn't spend much time talking about his fine record as a model plane builder for the United States Navy. However, of the 38 model warplanes from the San Francisco Recreation department that have been accepted by the Navy, twelve of the planes are the product of Frankie's workshop. He leads all individual builders in production in the boys' group since the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics introduced the program two months ago.

Frank is now gunning for a complete set of twenty to be finished and accepted by the Navy before the end of next month. However, building model planes isn't anything new with Frank. He has won a host of merit certificates from the San Francisco Recreation department for his fine handiwork achievements in the model plane field. He has been building them for almost four years now.

Under precise direction of the Navy's Bureau of Aeronautics, prints are sent to the model builder for the planes he is to build. The planes must be built exactly to specifications, and, to date, every plane which has been submitted by Frank has been accepted by the Navy.

houses were satisfactory except for minor changes, notably the extension of the water drains on both buildings.

The firehouses, part of the city's modernization program of fire department improvement, are located at Roosevelt and Peoria streets, and Santa Barbara and Parkview avenues.

After the council heard plans for the organization of Company B of the Seventeenth California Infantry, a military unit to be established here soon, the council asked Lieutenant Jack Hill, local recruiting officer to meet with the Civilian Defense Council, Wednesday evening, to explain the function of the military body.

The appointment of city committees which were made at the initial meeting of the present council following the election, were approved and announced at Monday's meeting. stamps while children are in school. The defense purchasers from the schools are of all ages, from those of high school age down to those who can barely reach the window.

Defense windows at both local branches of the Bank of America also are busy during banking hours, with the sale of bonds. Bond sales at the Daly City branch amounted to $16,425 during the month of April. At the Colma branch patriotic buyers paid out $14,300 in April for defense bonds.

Defense stamp sales at the post office for the month reached $1,810.70, while a total of 184 bonds were sold, amounting to $12,487.50. Defense bonds sold in Daly City and Colma during the month of April thus reached a grand total of $43,212.50.

Both bank and post office officials urged continued support, emphasizing the need for financial aid to the government in time of war and pointing out the safe and practical investment for the individual in buying defense bonds and stamps.

To Set Trial Date In Indecent Film Case

Three men, who were arrested in March, after a raid by local police, on a charge of showing indecent motion picture films, will be arraigned in the Daly City court, tomorrow afternoon by Judge John J. Fahey jr. At that time a date will be set for trial.

The three, Joe Callahan and Tony Gaguilo, both of San Francisco, and Charles F. Knight, 250 Evergreen avenue, were arrested in the basement of a local residence when the raid was made. Police arrived on the scene while one of the pictures was in progress before a group of fifty men. The officers, after making the arrests, confiscated all the equipment which was used in the show, including the films.

In court, last Friday, the three defendants were represented by Carl Anderson, Burlingame attorney, and the arraignment was set.

Register Two Thousand Children In Sign-Up

Over two thousand children in Daly City have been registered for civilian defense identification tags, according to reports from four PTA units of Daly City schools, directors of the registration.

In San Mateo county, twenty-two thousand children were reported registered for the tags. Woodrow Wilson school in Daly City registered the largest number of children from any one school in the county with a total of 955 signups.

The tags are expected to be delivered to those who registered during the last week in May.

Registration under PTA supervision took place during the four day signup for sugar rationing in the local grammar schools. A small charge of ten cents was made for each identification tag, and, since it was not compulsory, all PTA members were well satisfied with the response locally.

No Further Evidence Found In Murder Case

Joseph Kusber also testified, but the probe failed to uncover anything which threw any additional light on the case.

Pavlos was arrested by police early Sunday, April 26, a few minutes after Charles Darnell was found dead with a .22 calibre bullet through his head. He was slain in the Hillcrest apartments, 27 Hillcrest drive, as he arose from sleep to answer a knock on the door. He was found first by Mrs. Parriot, who summoned police immediately.

The arrest of Pavlos and subsequent charges of murder came as a result of the finding of a .22 calibre rifle which might have possibly been used in the slaying. Pavlos admitted ownership of the rifle but denied all charges of murder.

Date for the preliminary hearing for Pavlos is Friday, May 22 at 2 p. m. in the Daly City court. Trial will be held in the superior court in Redwood City at a later date, provided sufficient evidence is found at the preliminary hearing.

No other suspects are being held for questioning as yet, although the local police department is conducting an investigation for other suspects.

sugar in excess of their needs. The fixed amount was based on the number in the family. Of the 11,960 who signed up in the local schools last week, 11,417 of them were issued war ration books. The others did not receive ration books because they had ample sugar on hand. They merely filed application for rationing.

Dates have not yet been set by the San Mateo County Rationing board for the issuance of War Ration Book Two, but it is expected that the date will be announced soon.

All prospective sugar buyers must present their War Ration Book One to the grocer before purchase can be made. A number of stamps to correspond with the amount of sugar purchased will be detached from the book. Stamps from these books are the only means the grocer has of purchasing more sugar from wholesalers.

In signing the throngs of people who came to register for sugar in Daly City, R. L. Crane jr., superintendent of schools, gave high praise to both teachers of the district and the host of volunteer workers who assisted.

"I especially want to thank all those volunteer workers," Crane said, as he surveyed the huge stacks of registration forms which had been completed.

"The volunteers worked long hours and faithfully in getting the job done, and both the teachers and the administration appreciate their fine efforts."

Following are the volunteer workers who served as registrars: Mrs. Maude Hanselman, Mrs. Ida Hanley, Mrs. Schlesinger, Mrs. Mosley, Mrs. Madeline Fellows, Mrs. Lucille Lemon, Mrs. Pearl Jones, Mrs. Evelyn Mosman, Mrs. Ledterman, Mrs. Betty Tunstall, Mrs. Mary Crane, Mrs. Lyla Eldrup, Mrs. Frank Miller, Mrs. Hazel King, Miss Barbara Foreman, Mrs. Betty Brush, Mrs. Catherine Duffy, Mrs. Grace Hill, Mrs. Catherine Foreman, Mrs. Loretta Browning, Miss Ethel Hill, Miss Johanna Schwartz, Mrs. D. Whist To Benefit O. L. P. H. Church

Ladies whose names begin with the letters "L" and "M" will be in charge of the benefit whist for Our Lady of Perpetual Help church, tomorrow evening. The public has been issued a cordial invitation to attend the whist party, which will begin at 8:30 p. m. sharp at Masonic hall, 17 Hillcrest drive.

Many attractive awards, including a cash first prize, have been procured for the event.

Sidewalk Trespassing

As the ownership of property on a street extends to the middle of the roadway, both sidewalk and the street are intended only as rights of way for the public, says Col-lier's. Thus the New York Supreme court has held that a man who stops on the sidewalk in front of another's house and shouts abusive and insulting language at him is a tres-passer.

You are proud of him, Sonny. You betcha, the whole world is proud of the airmen of the U.S.A. Someday you will be up there too. It will be peacetime flying for you, Sonny. Your Dad will see to that!

FLYING has become Man's Sixth Sense. Nature didn't give it to him. Man had to attain it. Flying takes exceptional eyesight, physical fitness and coordination of sense and machine. Of these three things that make up the Sixth Sense—the feel of the air and the control of the machine—EYE-SIGHT, the ability to see quickly and clearly in split-seconds has been most important to fledglings of the United States Air Force in winning their wings. Good eyesight depends upon how healthy, normal eyes are used or abused. Fortunately in America much has been learned about this since World War No. 1. Beginning with our grade schools, nurses, doctors, eye specialists and oculists have carefully watched the eye health of growing children, and the relationship of eye health to good light has been emphasized. The electrical industry, from the manufacturer of lamps to the elec-tric company and the retail dealer, is proud of its part in the crusade of Better Light for Better Sight. Amer-ica's eyes of the skies will be an im-portant factor in the victory of Right Over Might.

Pershing Unit Installs Officers

The semi-annual Teachers' luncheon and installation of officers of General Pershing P. T. A., was held Friday noon at Pershing school.

The luncheon was attended by all teachers of the school, who were the honored guests, and a large majority of the membership was present. Each teacher and visiting president was presented with a lovely corsage.

Following the teachers' luncheon the installation ceremony took place with Mrs. George Bruns installing.

Honored guests at the installation were Mrs. Stella Jensen, incoming president of Seventeenth district, C. C. P. T., and the incoming and out-going presidents of Woodrow Wilson, Jefferson Union High school, Crocker and Colma P. T. A's.

Newly elected officers to take their oath of office included; Mrs. Mildred Rasor, president; Mrs. Alice Bryan, honorary vice-president; Mrs. Sophie Evans, first vice-president; Mrs. Marge Calvin, treasurer; Mrs. Frances Haussler, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Kathryn Krough, recording secretary; Mrs. Mildred McKenna, financial secretary; Mrs. Getha Mejia, historian; Mrs. Anne Eason, auditor; Mrs. Nora Clifton, parliamentarian.

A general business meeting followed the installation, at which the membership discussed plans for a whist to be held in the near future. Mrs. Eason was elected to serve as chairman with the entire executive board assisting her.

All annual reports of the various committees were given.

Mrs. Evans reported on the success of the pop-corn sale; Mrs. Ruth Canier reported on the rag sale and the contribution of four hundred garments that were given to the Red Cross for refugee children.

Mrs. Haussler, sewing chairman, thanked all the ladies who supported the sewing club. Mrs. Eason reported on the recreation work carried on by the unit for the past semester. She also announced that Mrs. Clara Mitchell, WPA recreation leader, would still do work at the school. Mrs. Eason also reported on the progress of the cafeteria for the semester.

Mrs. Virginia Davidson, publicity chairman, reported on publicity, and Mrs. Marge Woodside spoke to the group on the publicity book which was passed by the district with an average grade.

At the close of the business meeting Mrs. Eason presented Mrs. Clifton with the past president's pin.

Mrs. Ilda Marquis presented Mrs. Clifton with a lovely traveling bag and other gifts on behalf of the unit. The presentations were made in appreciation of the work Mrs. Clifton had done in the past semester.

Mrs. Clifton was chosen as a delegate from the local unit to attend the State convention at Long Beach, the latter part of this month.

Following the many presentations, Mrs. Clifton turned over the gavel to the new president, Mrs. Rasor. Mrs. Rasor concluded the meeting with a speech promising to do her best to make the next six months a success.

Mother-and-Daughter Meals are Fun to Prepare —and there's no better way to teach daughter how to cook

Dorothy Greig

EVERY once in awhile, mother had a gay way of jaunting off on little trips with dad. Then, while she was gone, it was up to the current teen age daughter to take over, plan and prepare the meals. Mostly it worked all right. One time, however, mother returned to find everyone down with chickenpox—which the boys always declared resulted from the fact that they were served eggs at every meal!

Meal preparation moves quickly when mother and daughter work as a team.

Perhaps a less heroic way to teach the girls in the family to cook is to have them help with the meals right along. To be sure, at first it's more trouble for mother but doing things together can be good fun, too. For instance, here are several meals in which preparation can be easily shared:

Chicken-and-Vegetable Soup
Veal Cutlets with Tomato Sauce
(*For this, heat condensed tomato soup just as it comes from the can.)

String Beans Mashed Potatoes
Bread and Butter
Tapioca Pudding with Fruit Cookie
Coffee

The Chicken-Vegetable soup is simple and delicious:

Chicken-Vegetable Soup
1 can condensed chicken soup
1 can water (using soup can for measure)
1 can condensed vegetable soup
To the chicken soup add 1 can of water. Heat and then just before serving add the vegetable soup. Heat and serve. Serves 4-5.

Bean-with-Bacon Soup
Quick Mushroom Omelet
Mixed Green Salad with Cheese Dressing
Bread and Butter
Broiled Grapefruit
(with butter and brown sugar)
Coffee

Quick Mushroom Omelet
8 eggs
4 tablespoons water
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup condensed cream of mushroom soup
2 tablespoons butter

Beat eggs until whites are well mixed through the yolks, then add water and seasonings. Melt the butter in a frying pan, pour in eggs and cook over moderate heat. As the omelet cooks, lift edges toward center and tip pan so the uncooked mixture flows under the cooked portion. When bottom is browned put cream of mushroom soup, which has been heated just as it comes from the can, on the omelet. Roll, then slip omelet on to hot platter. Serve immediately. Serves 6.

WHAT WILL YOU READ?

Are you one of those who still believes that we ought not to discuss peace plans until the war is won?

If so, here are two things to think about:

1. There is no greater morale-builder than the knowledge that people are thinking hard about the kind of world they want to build.
2. On that day when the war ends, will we be ready? A lasting peace cannot be planned overnight.

The new world requires planning and effort and sweat. It needs these things now—and now is the time to plan. Now, while we are fighting for a better world.

Last week the Council For Democracy published a pamphlet, "The New World," which puts the problem very simply. When you pick up your Daly City Record ten years from today, which one of these stories do you want to read?

THIS . . . ?

Yesterday marked the 10th anniversary of World Federation Day. All over the earth, in a series of remarkable and moving ceremonies, men, women and children met in freedom and peace, and listened to the condensed report on the state of the world broadcast in every known language. Perhaps the most dramatic feature of the report was the announcement of the final conquest of cancer, due to the pooled researches of Dr. Emilio Sanchez of Buenos Aires, Dr. Lin Szu of Nanking and Sir Henry Bolton, M. D. of London.

Less dramatic but more significant was the rise of the basic living standard of mankind from a low of 58 in 1942 to the current figure of 117. While this figure is still unsatisfactory, considering the known resources of the planet, as the Commissioner of Australia remarked, "We have only scratched the surface of man's capacity for growth." The Committee on Wars reported that, for the eighth consecutive year there had been no armed outbreak of any sort in the world.

Which shall it be?
Now is the time to plan!

OR THIS?

Yesterday the Black Army threw seven new divisions in its drive on the Southern Front and, while heavily counterattacked in certain sectors, claimed a net advance of 37 miles. Casualties of the past month are estimated by neutral observers at 121,000, though this figure is disputed. A report from officials of the Red Cross states that one-third of the world's population is now living under famine conditions and no alleviation may be expected in the near future. The recent outbreak of plague in Malaysia now seems to have spread to the mainland and cases have been reported from such widely separated points as Brisbane, Honolulu and San Francisco.

The report of the complete destruction of Boston by enemy rocket-bombs has just been confirmed by the Secretary of War.

Reading & Writing

By Edwin Seaver and Robin McKown

One day Nazi troops guarding the Skoda munition works in Czechoslovakia found a drawing of a gigantic tortoise on the walls. The tortoise may not have meant anything particular to the Nazis, but for the Czech workers it meant "slow down." In fact, in all the Nazi-occupied countries the tortoise has become one of the symbols of rebellion, Curt Reiss reports in his fascinating book, "Underground Europe."

Even under the watchful eye of the Gestapo, a workman in Prague may drop a bolt and have to spend several minutes looking for it under his bench. In another factory, say in Poland, a screw-driver breaks, thus entailing a slight delay. In Belgium, a wrong label is stuck on a box of nails. A French factory girl in Alsace cutting a sheet of tin makes a mistake, spoiling perhaps ten per cent. All over Europe these days workers are suffering from lapses of memory, Curt Reiss reports. They forget to oil machines in time to prevent serious wear and tear. Or they use too much oil, thus clogging the machine so it has to be stopped and cleaned.

Such trifling incidents multiplied a thousand and a hundred thousand fold are doing considerable to throw the German production plans off schedule, says the author of "Underground Europe." Making robots out of men is not as easy as the Nazis believe.

One of the neatest tricks in sabotage is mentioned in F. C. Weiskopf's "Dawn Breaks," a novel about the underground movement in Central Europe. The workers when they are drinking their beer at lunch next to their machines, simply blow some of the suds down the whitehot gun barrels. It leaves no trace, but the barrel is never the same again. The steel cools unevenly, and unevenly cooled steel cannot withstand the stresses set up by the expanding gases at every firing. Mr. Weiskopf tells this story in fictional form, but he vouches for its veracity.

Eighty years ago, a French peasant girl, Bernadette Soubirous, saw a vision of the Madonna in a cavern at Lourdes. Since then, thousands of people have made pilgrimages to the grotto, and many have claimed they were cured of their ailments by the miraculous waters of the spring there. Franz Werfel, internationally famous novelist, was in Lourdes at the time France fell, and was so moved by the story of Bernadette that he resolved if he ever escaped to freedom and lived to write again, he would write a novel about her. He finally made his way to America by way of Lisbon and set to work on the book. His forthcoming novel, "The Song of Bernadette," is the result, and the Book-of-the-Month Club has selected it as the Club's June book.

What do celebrities eat? Frank Case, suave proprietor of New York's Hotel Algonquin, whose dining room for many years has been a famous meeting place for literary and theatrical headliners, says he's often asked this question. His answers may be found in a new kind of cookbook, "Feeding the Lions." Evidently celebrities like the same kind of food we ordinary mortals eat. Orson Welles, for instance, goes for boiled beef with horseradish sauce. John Fredricks, famed as a designer of women's hats, likes Irish lamb stew, while Gary Cooper and producer Moss Hart both cast their vote for corned beef hash. Lucius Boomer, President of the Waldorf-Astoria, favors ham and eggs, while movie star Walter Huston prefers plain roast beef.

Indians Lose Chance To Be In Playoffs

Winding up Jefferson's baseball season, the Indians were ousted from play in the O'Shaughnessy playoffs, Friday, when they lost a tough decision to the league-leading San Mateo nine by a score of 6 to 4.

With Jeff batters hitting safely seven times to outthit the winners, the Indians drove two runs across the plate in the fourth frame and two more in the fifth to take a 4 to 2 lead. But the lead didn't last long, as the San Mateans retaliated in their half of the fifth with a four run rally to decide the contest.

Jimmy McKinnon, local south-paw pitching ace, held the Bearcat batters to six hits, while Dyer and Arthurs were Jefferson's hitting threats with two apiece.

Play Doubleheader At Marchbank Field

Daly City WPA Recreation department baseball, last Sunday, found the Machinists Union defeating the Daly City Farralone Packers by a score of 10 to 7 and the Richmond Builders squeezing a 6-5 victory from the Frank Newman club in a doubleheader at Marchbank field.

In the Jefferson field contest, another evenly matched game, the Brisbane Merchants nosed in ahead of Aquatic Park by a 5 to 4 count.

Daly City's Farralone Packers will play the Laundryworkers' Union at 11 a. m. Sunday on Marchbank field. In the afternoon attraction, Sherry Liquor will clash with the Longshoremen at 2:30 p. m.

IT'S CITIZENSHIP WEEK

And There Couldn't Be a Better Time to Ask Ourselves What We Here At Home Are Doing to Help Win This War

For those in the armed forces the answer to the query, "What is my part in the war," has an obvious answer. But we who are not with the armed forces must do our part too. How?

If each of us can answer "YES" to the following questions we'll WIN THIS WAR--by getting behind the boys who are giving their lives to protect ours

1. Do I realize we are fighting, not for conquest, but for our very existence as a people?
2. Have I stopped putting my personal profit above the national interest?
3. Am I willing to use my spare time to cooperate in civilian defense work?
4. Am I determined (a) to stop grumbling about the job that's being done when I'm not sure of my facts, and (b) to send constructive suggestions to the proper authorities?
5. Am I being as careful as I can about repeating groundless rumors that might obstruct the work or help the enemy?
6. Am I doing everything possible to economize in my use of essential materials—rubber, oil, electricity, etc.?
7. Am I trying to save waste materials—paper, tin cans, metal tubes, etc.—and to facilitate their collection by segregating them from other waste?
8. Am I buying Defense Bonds to the limit of my ability?
9. Am I contributing as much as possible to the Red Cross and other welfare organizations which need funds now more than ever?
10. Do I always and ever remember Pearl Harbor and my pledge to help pay back this treacherous assault a thousand times?

Is Your Answer "Yes" To Each Of These?

New Telephone Directory Is Lighter

Designed to meet war conditions by conserving paper, the lightest telephone directory issued here in years has been delivered to telephone subscribers in San Francisco, according to Lyle M. Brown, division manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company. The new green-covered directory, dated May, 1942, is now in the hands of all San Francisco subscribers. The new directory separates the San Francisco and East Bay listings. It is estimated that this change will effect a saving of 421 tons of paper per directory issue.

This is of considerable importance to the nation's war effort since paper is in urgent demand by war industries, Brown said. The new San Francisco directory weighs a little over three pounds as compared with about four and a half pounds, the weight of the old issue. It contains, however, a total of 205,000 listings of San Francisco telephone subscribers, an increase of 4,600 listings over the previous issue and breaking all records in the 65 years of local telephone history. The San Francisco directory also includes listings of subscribers in San Mateo county and in the Palo Alto exchange, Santa Clara county.
